Virtual Event Sponsorship Opportunities

The American Wind Wildlife Institute (AWWI) invites you to partner with us as a sponsor of the largest wind-wildlife research event in North America. The biennial Wind Wildlife Research Meeting is a pivotal event for generating and sharing science and solutions for wind energy and wildlife. This internationally recognized meeting attracts the who’s who of the wind-wildlife sector, with over 400 attendees in 2016 and 2018 from the wind industry and industry support companies, federal and state agencies, academia, and conservationists.

Sponsor and reinforce your brand, meet new clients, and create opportunities for your business — while also supporting the most important wind-wildlife meeting of the year.

- Show your company’s commitment to solving wind energy and wildlife challenges
- Expand your brand coverage with a vast network of wind companies, environmental and science organizations, and government agencies
- Promote business-to-business relationships and collaborations
